DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

1 Comes now Plaintiffs, Tiffany Burton and Charles Burton and hereby allege 2 as follows:

3 PARTIES

4 1. Plaintiffs TIFFANY BURTON and CHARLES BURTON (collectively
5 “Plaintiffs”) are individuals and citizens/residents of the State of Texas.

6 2. Defendant NUTRIBULLET, LLC (“Defendant” or “Defendant
7 “NUTRIBULLET, LLC”) is a California Limited Liability Corporation with its 8 principal office in Los Angeles, California. Defendant NUTRIBULLET, LLC is in 9 the business of and did design, develop, formulate, manufacture, test, package, 10 promote, label, advertise, market, instruct on, warn about, distribute, supply and/or 11 sell products and blenders marketed under the NutriBullet and MagicBullet brand
12 names, such as the NutriBullet Rx. These products are intended for use as household 13 blenders.

14 3. The true names, identities and capacities of those defendants designated 15 as DOES 1 through 10, inclusive, and each of them, are unknown to Plaintiff, who 16 sue said defendants by such fictitiously designated names. Plaintiff is informed and 17 believe and, on the basis thereof, allege that each of the Defendants designated herein
18 as a DOE was a California resident and in some way was legally responsible for the 19 events herein alleged. Plaintiff will seek leave of court to set forth the true names, 20 identities and capacities of defendants designated as DOES 1 through 10, inclusive,
21 when same has been ascertained. Defendant NUTRIBULLET, LLC and DOES 1
22 through 10 are collectively referred to as “Defendants” herein.

23 4. Plaintiff is informed and believe and on the basis thereof alleges that 24 defendants and DOES 1 through 10, inclusive, and each of them were responsible 25 for the design, manufacturing, development, research, testing, inspection, 26 packaging, mass- production, advertisement, promotion, supply, distribution, sale,
27 delivery, instructions on, warnings about, and labeling of the NutriBullet Rx blender.

1 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

2 5. This Court has jurisdiction over this controversy pursuant to 28 U.S.C.
3 Section 1332(a)(2) because the parties are completely diverse and the amount in 4 controversy exceeds the $75,000.00 minimum jurisdictional requirement, exclusive 5 of costs and attorney's fees.

6 6. Venue is appropriate in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. Section
7 1391(b)(1), as all defendants named herein are residents of the State of California, 8 in which this district is located.

9 GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

10 7. This action arises from Plaintiff Tiffany Burton's use of Defendants'
11 defective product, the NutriBullet Rx blender, which resulted in permanent injuries 12 to her right hand.

13 8. Plaintiff Tiffany Burton cooks regularly, and she and her family
14 regularly use blenders to prepare meals. Plaintiffs had owned a different model 15 blender sold by Defendant in the past, but once that blender stopped working in or 16 around January 2017, Plaintiffs began utilizing the NutriBullet Rx received as a gift.

17 9. In or around March 2016, Plaintiffs received a NutriBullet Rx as a gift.

18 10. On or about the morning of January 23, 2017, Plaintiff Tiffany Burton
19 utilized her NutriBullet Rx to prepare a smoothie before going to work.

20 11. All NutriBullet blenders, including the NutriBullet Rx blender
21 essentially have three components: a powered base unit which contains a high-22 powered motor ("base"), a plastic cup-shaped container that holds ingredients to be 23 blended ("canister"), and a plastic lid mounted with metal blades ("blade 24 assembly"), which screws into the cup.

25 12. After the blade assembly is screwed onto the cup, the cup and the blade 26 assembly is then inverted and pressed down into the power base, which initiates the 27 movement of the blades affixed to the lid. If the cup and blade assembly is twisted 28 while on the power base, plastic tabs on the assembly will lock it in place on the

1 power base, creating an open electrical circuit to allow the blades to operate.
2 Twisting the opposite direct will release the assembly and disengage the motor.

3 13. Each NutriBullet blender, including the NutriBullet Rx, comes with a 4 User Guide and Recipe Book, which encourage use of various ingredients, and also 5 contains recipes and instructions for making hot soups with the blender.

6 14. On or about the morning of January 23, 2017, after utilizing the 7 NutriBullet Rx, she rinsed all of the blender components and placed the blender
8 canister beside it to air dry. She placed the dry blade assembly lid on the powered 9 base. When she returned home from work at around 5:30 p.m. that same day, she 10 intended to prepare her family dinner. Because the NutriBullet Rx was next to her 11 stove and she needed additional space to prepare her family's meal, she picked up 12 base with her left hand and had her right hand near the blade assembly lid. The 13 canister was not "locked in" to the base. As she moved the unit, the NutriBullet Rx 14 blades began to spin suddenly and without notice and directly into her right hand,
15 deeply cutting her right hand, including her right thumb and fingers, and severing 16 her right index finger.

17 15. Plaintiff Charles Burton observed in horror as his wife's hand was 18 mangled by the spinning blades of the NutriBullet Rx.

19 16. Plaintiff Charles Burton immediately drove his wife to the emergency 20 room where she began treatment for her injuries, including surgery to re-attach her 21 index finger.

22 17. Plaintiff Tiffany Burton has undergone additional surgeries on her hand
23 and receives physical therapy treatment to treat the severe pain symptoms. Plaintiff
24 Tiffany Burton continues to receive treatment on her hand, but it is likely her hand 25 will never completely heal, as she will have to live with the severe pain and nerve 26 damage caused by the NutriBullet Rx.

27 18. Defendants have been aware of the risk of injuries associated with 28 NutriBullet blenders since at least August 2016, but the Defendants failed to do

1 anything about the defective nature of the NutriBullet blender as to prevent the type
2 of injuries it knew it caused for years prior to Plaintiffs to suffer her injuries, 3 including but not limited to, issuing warnings, changing the defective design, or 4 recalling of the blender, thereby consciously disregarding the safety of NutriBullet
5 users including Plaintiffs, yet continuing to collect profits from the sale of over 40
6 million units worldwide. Accordingly, Defendants were aware for at many months
7 and possibly up to four years, that its blenders, including the NutriBullet Rx,
8 presented exactly the same type of risk which injured Plaintiff Tiffany Burton.

9 19. Specifically, Plaintiffs are aware that in a report published on 10 SaferProducts.gov, a 48 year-old woman describes that in August 2016, she 11 attempted to remove the blender canister after finishing blending, but the blades 12 continued to run despite the fact that she had dislodged the blender canister from the 13 base. Her right hand went directly into the blade assembly causing severe 14 lacerations.

15 20. Moreover, Plaintiffs are aware that in a report published on 16 SaferProducts.gov, a 45 year-old woman describes that in August 2014, she suffered 17 injuries when her NutriBullet blender exploded by blending, and that the blades from 18 her machine continued to spin without the blender canister attached.

19 21. Since at least 2011, Defendants were also aware of the risk of injuries
20 associated with their very similar product, the Magic Bullet blender. In a report 21 published on SaferProducts.gov, a Magic Bullet consumer described injuries she 22 suffered when she was blending hot sweet potatoes with her Magic Bullet blender.
23 The consumer report stated that when she began to unscrew the lid of her Magic 24 Bullet blender, the contents exploded in a six-foot radius around her kitchen, causing 25 burns and other injuries. As set forth in the report, this Magic Bullet blender
26 consumer personally contacted Homeland Housewares, LLC, and the parent 27 company for NutriBullet, LLC, on October 20, 2011. The report was sent by 28 Homeland Housewares, LLC to the Consumer Product Safety Commission in

1 October 2011. Accordingly, Defendants fraudulently concealed and intentionally
 2 failed to disclose to Plaintiffs the defective nature of the NutriBullet blenders,
 3 including the NutriBullet Rx, in violation of common law.

4 22. Accordingly, about four years before Plaintiff was injured by the 5 NutriBullet Rx, Defendants were aware that this type of produce presented a risk of 6 injury to its consumers, which Plaintiff ultimately suffered, including information
 7 that its NutriBullet blenders can and will explode under certain circumstances.

8 FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

9 Negligence

10 (Plaintiff TIFFANY BURTON as to NUTRIBULLET LLC and DOES 1 – 10)

11 23. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference all other paragraphs of this 12 complaint as if fully set forth herein.

13 24. At all times relevant times to this action, defendants NUTRIBULLET 14 LLC and DOES 1 – 10, inclusive, had a duty to exercise reasonable care, and to 15 comply with the existing standards of care, in their preparation, design, develop, 16 formulate, manufacture, test, package, promote, label, advertise, market, instruct on, 17 warn about distribute, supply and/or sell products and blenders marketed under the 18 NutriBullet and MagicBullet brand names, including the NutriBullet Rx, which 19 Defendants introduced into the stream of commerce to be used as household 20 blenders, including a duty to ensure that users would not suffer from unreasonable 21 dangerous accidents while using the machine.

22 25. At all times relevant to this action, Defendants had a duty to ensure that 23 their products, including the NutriBullet Rx, did not pose a significantly increase 24 risk of bodily harm and adverse events.

25 26. At all relevant times, Defendants, knew or reasonably should have 26 known that its products, including the NutriBullet Rx, were unreasonably dangerous 27 and defective when used for its intended use, including but not limited to the 28 following particulars: a) The NutriBullet Rx blade assembly will operate even when

1 the canister is not locked into the base, causing unexpected rotation of the blade and 2 potential to cause severe lacerations to consumers; and, b) That the warnings and 3 labels on the NutriBullet Rx, and its user manual, are inadequate to alert the 4 consumer of the dangers in using said machine.

5 27. At all relevant times, Defendants knew or reasonably should have
 6 known that its products, including the NutriBullet Rx, was unreasonably dangerous
 7 and defective when used for its intended use, and that Plaintiff would foreseeably
 8 suffer injury as a result of Defendants' failure to exercise reasonable care.

9 28. Defendants failed to modify or otherwise retrofit its products, including 10 the NutriBullet Rx, to make it safe for use, and otherwise failed to warn consumers
 11 of the dangers which Defendants knew or should have known existed.

12 29. The likelihood and gravity of the harm presented by the NutriBullet Rx 13 outweigh the utility of the design of the product.

14 30. The product defects alleged above were substantial factors contributing 15 to the cause of injuries and damages suffered by Plaintiff Tiffany Burton.

16 31. As a direct and proximate cause of the negligence of Defendants,
 17 Plaintiff Tiffany Burton suffered, and will continue to suffer, personal injuries,
 18 including but not limited to, loss of past and future earnings, loss of mobility, use 19 and feeling in her hand, severe emotional distress and anxiety, general damages and 20 other economic and non-economic damages in an amount to be proven at trial.

21 SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

22 Strict Products Liability – Failure to Warn

23 (Plaintiff TIFFANY BURTON as to NUTRIBULLET LLC and DOES 1 -10)

24 32. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference all other paragraphs of this
 25 complaint as if fully set forth herein.

26 33. At all relevant times, Defendant and Does 1-10 were in the business of 27 and did design, develop, formulate, manufacture, test, package, promote, label,
 28 advertise, market, instruct on, warn about, distribute, supply and/or sell products and

1 blenders marketed under the NutriBullet and MagicBullet brand names, such as the
2 NutriBullet Rx. These products are intended for use as household blenders.

3 34. Defendants placed the NutriBullet blenders, including the NutriBullet
4 Rx, into the stream of commerce.

5 35. The NutriBullet blenders, including the NutriBullet Rx, were defective
6 at the time they were placed into the stream of commerce by Defendants in that: 1) 7 it had inadequate warnings or instructions; 2) Defendants knew about but failed to 8 inform consumers of the risks presented, thereby preventing consumer, including 9 Plaintiffs, from eliminating or reducing the risk; 3) the NutriBullet blenders, 10 including the NutriBullet Rx, failed to provide adequate safe-use instructions; and 11 4) Defendants knew or should have known that the NutriBullet blenders, including 12 the NutriBullet Rx, were unreasonably dangerous in that it created a substantially 13 increased risk of serious bodily harm to reasonably foreseeable consumers, including 14 Plaintiff, and Defendants failed to adequately warn of such increased risk.

15 36. The NutriBullet blenders, including the NutriBullet Rx, was also 16 defective due to inadequate post-marketing warning or instructions because 17 Defendants failed to provide adequate warnings to consumers after Defendants knew 18 or should have known of the risk of serious bodily harm from the intended or 19 foreseeable use of the products.

20 37. As a direct and proximate result of Plaintiff Tiffany Burton's 21 foreseeable use of the NutriBullet Rx, Plaintiff Tiffany Burton suffered, and will 22 continue to suffer, personal injuries, including but not limited to, loss of past and 23 future earnings, loss of mobility, use and feeling in her hand, severe emotional 24 distress and anxiety, general damages and other economic and non-economic 25 damages in an amount to be proven at trial.

28 ///

THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF

Strict Liability – Manufacturing Defect

(Plaintiff TIFFANY BURTON as to NUTRIBULLET LLC and DOES 1-10)

38. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference all other paragraphs of this complaint as if fully set forth herein.

39. At all relevant times, Defendant and Does 1-10 were in the business of and did design, develop, formulate, manufacture, test, package, promote, label, advertise, market, instruct on, warn about, distribute, supply and/or sell products and blenders marketed under the NutriBullet and MagicBullet brand names, such as the NutriBullet Rx. These products are intended for use as household blenders.

40. Defendants placed the NutriBullet blenders, including the NutriBullet Rx, into the stream of commerce.

41. The NutriBullet blenders, including the NutriBullet Rx, contained a manufacturing defect at the time it left Defendants' possession.

42. Plaintiff Tiffany Burton was harmed by the NutriBullet Rx the NutriBullet Rx blades to spin suddenly and without notice as the canister was not "locked in" or even near the base, directly into her right hand, deeply cutting her right hand, including her right thumb and fingers, and severing her right index finger.

43. The manufacturing defect in the NutriBullet blenders, including the NutriBullet Rx, was the direct and proximate cause of Plaintiffs' injuries described herein.

44. As a direct and proximate result of the manufacturing defect, Plaintiff Tiffany Burton suffered, and will continue to suffer, personal injuries, including but not limited to, loss of past and future earnings, loss of mobility, use and feeling in her hand, severe emotional distress and anxiety, general damages and other economic and non-economic damages in an amount to be proven at trial.

FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

Strict Liability – Design Defect

(Plaintiff TIFFANY BURTON as to NUTRIBULLET LLC and DOES 1-10)

45. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference all other paragraphs of this complaint as if fully set forth herein.

46. At all relevant times, Defendant and Does 1-10 were in the business of and did design, develop, formulate, manufacture, test, package, promote, label, advertise, market, instruct on, warn about, distribute, supply and/or sell products and blenders marketed under the NutriBullet and MagicBullet brand names, such as the NutriBullet Rx. These products are intended for use as household blenders.

47. Defendants placed the NutriBullet blenders, including the NutriBullet Rx, into the stream of commerce.

48. The NutriBullet blenders, including the NutriBullet Rx, and its component parts contained a design defect when it left Defendants' possession because it would not operate safely as an ordinary consumer would have expected at the time of use, in that: 1) the motor would engage and cause the blade assembly would operate without the canister "locked in"; 2) the consumer would be exposed to the sharp, spinning blades of the blender; and 3) the spinning blade assembly itself would be propelled out from the power base, potentially toward the consumers or others.

49. An ordinary consumer would not have expected the NutriBullet blenders, including the NutriBullet Rx, to turn on unexpectedly in such a manner described above, exposing the consumer to spinning blades.

50. Plaintiff was harmed by the NutriBullet Rx blender when the blades began spinning unexpectedly and without the canister "locked in", causing severe injuries to her hand.

1        57. The produce was unsafe for its intended use, and it was not of 2 merchantable quality, as warranted by Defendants, in that it had very dangerous
 3 propensities when put to its intended use and would cause severe injury to the user.
 4 The NutriBullet Rx was unaccompanied by warning of its dangerous propensities 5 that were either known or reasonable scientifically knowable at the time of 6 distribution.

7        58. On or about January 23, 2017, Plaintiffs' NutriBullet Rx blender 8 involved in this incident was in substantially the same condition as when it was 9 originally designed, developed, tested, packaged, labeled and sold by Defendants.

10        59. Plaintiff was injured, as described herein, while using the NutriBullet
 11 Rx in a foreseeable manner for its intended uses.

12        60. As a proximate and legal result of the defective and unreasonably 13 dangerous condition of the NutriBullet blenders, including the NutriBullet Rx, 14 manufactured and supplied by Defendants, Plaintiff was caused to suffer the herein 15 described injuries.

16        61. That as a direct and legal result of such breach of implied warranty, and 17 the dangerous condition of the NutriBullet Rx, as alleged herein, Plaintiff Tiffany
 18 Burton suffered, and will continue to suffer personal injuries, including but not 19 limited to, loss of past and future earnings, loss of mobility, use and feeling in her 20 hand, severe emotional distress and anxiety, general damages and other economic 21 and non-economic damages in an amount to be proven at trial.

22        SIXTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

23        Violation of the Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200, et seq.

24        (Plaintiff TIFFANY BURTON as to NUTRIBULLET LLC and DOES 1-10)

25        62. Plaintiff incorporates by reference all other paragraphs of this 26 complaint as if fully set forth herein.

27        63. Business & Professions Code § 17200 prohibits acts of "unfair 28 competition," including any "unlawful, unfair or fraudulent business act or practice."

1 Defendants' conduct, as described above, is unlawful, unfair and fraudulent in 2 violation of the statute.

3 64. Defendants' acts and practices are unlawful because they violate 4 California Civil Code §§ 1572, 1709, 1710, and 1770(a)(5) and/or 1770(a)(7), as 5 well as common law. Defendants' acts and practices are also unlawful because they 6 violate § 17500 of the Business and Professions Code.

7 65. Defendants violated the UCL when they concealed and/or failed to 8 disclose the known defects in the NutriBullet blenders, including the NutriBullet Rx,
9 to members of the public, in violation of the California Consumer Legal Remedies
10 Act ("CLRA").

11 66. Defendants violated the UCL by failing to disclose a substantially 12 injurious defect to consumers, contrary to "established public policy" of the CLRA.

13 67. Defendants violated the UCL by fraudulently concealing and 14 intentionally failing to disclose to Plaintiffs the defective nature of the NutriBullet
15 blenders, including the NutriBullet Rx, in violation of common law.

16 68. Defendants violated the UCL by actively concealing and omitting from 17 its marketing and other communications, material information about the NutriBullet
18 blenders, including the NutriBullet Rx, in a manner that has deceived and is likely 19 to deceive consumers and the public.

20 69. Defendant violated the UCL by selling NutriBullet blenders, including 21 the NutriBullet Rx, that were defective.

22 70. Defendants violated the UCL by holding the NutriBullet blenders,
23 including the NutriBullet Rx, out as safe.

24 71. The financial injury and risk of personal safety to consumers by 25 Defendants' conduct greatly outweighs any alleged countervailing benefit to 26 consumers of competition under all of the circumstances. The fraudulent conduct
27 described herein was known to, and authorized by Defendants' officers, directors 28 and managing agents.

1       72. The injury to consumers by Defendants' conduct is not an injury that 2 consumers themselves could reasonable have avoided because of Defendants' 3 concealment of material fact.

4       73. To this day and in addition to failing to disclose the defect, Defendants
5 continue to violate the UCL by continuing to actively conceal the material 6 information regarding the defective nature of the NutriBullet blenders, including the 7 NutriBullet Rx, and by failing to disclose that NutriBullet blenders, including the 8 NutriBullet Rx, are both defective and dangerous.

9       74. In addition to failing to disclose the defect, Defendants' advertising
10 campaigns also violated the UCL. Throughout the relevant time period, Defendants 11 engaged in a long-term advertising campaign that was likely to deceive members of 12 the public by failing to disclose the material fact that NutriBullet blenders, including 13 the NutriBullet Rx, are defective.

14       75. As a direct and proximate cause of Defendants' acts, which constituted 15 violations under the unlawful, unfair and fraudulent prongs of the UCL, Plaintiff has 16 suffered injury in fact and lost money. Moreover, Plaintiff faces unsafe conditions 17 as a result of the defective nature of the NutriBullet Rx. Plaintiff has lost money and 18 suffered injuries in fact because, had Defendants disclosed the true defective nature 19 of the NutriBullet blenders, including the NutriBullet Rx, Plaintiff would not have 20 incurred medical expenses resulting from their injuries.

21       76. As a proximate result of Defendants' violation of the UCL, Defendants 22 have been unjustly enriched and should be required to repair the defective
23 NutriBullet blenders, including the NutriBullet Rx, and make restitution to Plaintiff.

24       77. Plaintiff demands judgment against Defendants for injunctive relief in 25 the form of restitution, along with injunctive relief in the form of replacement of 26 Plaintiffs' NutriBullet Rx with units displaying appropriate warnings, with interest, 27 attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to, inter alia, Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1021.5.

1 78. Plaintiff also demands judgment against Defendants for injunctive
 2 relief requiring distribution to all NutriBullet consumers of warnings regarding the 3 NutriBullet's inherent dangers, with interest, attorneys' fees and costs pursuant to,
 4 inter alia, Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1021.5.

5 SEVENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

6 Negligent Infliction of Emotional Distress

7 (Plaintiffs TIFFANY BURTON and CHARLES BURTON as to 8 NUTRIBULLET LLC and DOES 1-10)

9 79. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference all other paragraphs of this
 10 complaint as if fully set forth herein.

11 80. At all relevant times, Defendant and Does 1-10 were in the business of 12 and did design, develop, formulate, manufacture, test, package, promote, label,
 13 advertise, market, instruct on, warn about, distribute, supply and/or sell products and
 14 blenders marketed under the NutriBullet and MagicBullet brand names, such as the 15 NutriBullet Rx. These products are intended for use as household blenders.

16 81. Defendants had a duty to ensure that their products, including the 17 NutriBullet blenders and NutriBullet Rx, did not pose a significantly increased risk 18 of bodily harm and adverse events.

19 82. Defendants failed to exercise such reasonable care in that Defendants 20 knew or reasonably should have known that NutriBullet blenders, including the 21 NutriBullet Rx, posed a significantly increased risk of bodily harm and adverse 22 events, and was not safe for use by consumers as sold, and Defendants further failed 23 to adequately warn and label NutriBullet blenders, including the NutriBullet Rx to 24 keep consumers safe.

25 84. Defendants knew or should have known that consumers, such as 26 Plaintiffs, would foreseeable suffer injury as a result of Defendants' failure to 27 exercise reasonable care.

1        85. Plaintiff Charles Burton, the husband of Plaintiff Tiffany Burton, was 2 present at the scene of the incident and was aware that his wife's hand was being 3 mangled by the NutriBullet blender.

4        86. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' negligence, Plaintiffs 5 were in the zone of physical danger, suffered physical injury and severe emotional 6 distress, and will continue to suffer such emotional harm in the future.

7                    EIGHTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

8                    Loss of Consortium

9        (Plaintiff CHARLES BURTON as to NUTRIBULLET LLC and DOES 1-10)

10        87. Plaintiffs incorporate by reference all other paragraphs of this
11 complaint as if fully set forth herein.

12        88. Plaintiff Charles Burton, was at all times relevant hereto, and currently 13 is, the spouse of Plaintiff Tiffany Burton.

14        89. Plaintiff Charles Burton has been caused, presently and in the future, to 15 suffer the loss of his spouse's companionship, services and society and the ability of 16 Plaintiff Charles Burton has in those respects been impaired and depreciated, and 17 the marital association between husband and wife has been altered.

18        90. That Plaintiff Charles Burton has lost the past and future reasonable 19 value of household services provided by Plaintiff Tiffany Burton to the marital 20 household as result of her injuries as alleged herein.

21        91. That Charles Burton suffered mental anguish as a result of watching his 22 spouse, Plaintiff Tiffany Burton, get injured in his general presence.

23        92. Plaintiff Charles Burton prays for all general damages and special 24 damages as a result of his wife, Plaintiff Tiffany Burton's injuries as alleged herein.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays for judgment against NUTRIBULLET LLC, and DOES 1 -10, and each of them, for each cause of action, as follows:

1. For all special damages including but not limited to, lost wages and future earning capacity, reimbursement of medical and other related bills, future medical bills and the reasonable value of the loss of household services;

2.
